Introduction

IVIC is the largest, most comprehensive and best visited trade fair for emergency and rescue services and disaster response units in Benelux. In four days over 17,000 professional visitors from the Netherlands and Belgium come together at the Autotron Rosmalen complex to update themselves about the latest products, services, technologies and other developments in Incident Management, Disaster Prevention and Rescue Services.

Unique about IVIC is the multidisciplinary and interactive character of the exhibition. The location gives you the opportunity to exhibit both indoors and outdoors. With an exhibition floor of over 10,000 m<sup>2</sup> (107,64 ft<sup>2</sup>), space will be offered to exhibitors with services and products intended for fire services, police services, health services, company emergency staff, and recovery and salvage specialists.

On the outdoor area, companies can participate with products or services that can barely be demonstrated on a traditional indoor exhibition. A realistic demonstration or a workshop of your product or service is naturally your best advert. Emergency service professionals are keen to learn, focused on the practical side and take every opportunity to experience your products or services for themselves.

With all these advantages IVIC has proven over the years to be the ideal platform for the exchange of knowledge between every emergency discipline and the branch of industry.
